

Woodstock Inn—Woodstock, Vermont, August 31st 1898.

Dear friend excuse postal for your lovely letter of the 29th, as they all are; since my friends here, have read your piece on H.S.N.M. College — they all want it, and as you write “I have in hand several copies for you,” may I ask you to mail them to me here. I can never cease to be more and more grateful to you, and am sure when you see the entire College and grounds, and her Pres, you will feel you have not said more than the College deserves; Miss B. & Mr C. desire warm greetings to Mr P. & yourself with deal love to you both from

WOODSTOCK INN
WOODSTOCK, VT.

August 30th, 1898

My Dear Mrs. Putnam,

The Home Journal containing your article on H. Sophie Newcomb Memorial College has been received & I write to thank you for the pleasure it has given.

I consider the tribute worthy of our College & in saying this, give the highest praise – for Mrs. Newcomb's work is built with angel hands & is an altar to God, as well as a memorial to her child.

And so I thank you for the pleasure your appreciation has given.

I hope some day to meet your husband & to know you both as my friends.

Cordially,

Alice Bowman.
