My dear friend,

Your last most pleasing letter of the 18th deserves my warmest thanks for your very kind words; in my last to you I think I told you of D<sup>r</sup> G. T. Metcalfe's visit to me, and about Mr James Pott and Mrs John Chamberlain, who they were, for both, I am safe in writing you, would be charmed to meet you. I have written to the latter by this ~~xxx~~ mail, to please see Mr Mallory and ask him, whether the price stated for half a page, is for one insertion or for a year; dont you think it better to await answe~~r~~e before sending the fotograph.

With you I think $109.20<sup>cts</sup> for 52 insertions very high. The Churchman is the leading Church paper, and we have no option, did you get one I sent you?. I send Mrs C's ^last letter to me as she 'failed' to write what Mr Mallory said to her.— Will you kindly write an article for the paper and send to me, none can do it as you can. I sent a slip and wrote to Carson to your care do hope he received it. This is a perfect day after the storm. Mr C, sends greetings to all and yourself, with my love from very sincerely Jo. L Newcomb.
